Position: Civil Society and Communications Expert

Are you passionate about driving positive change in civil society through impactful communication strategies? Co-PLAN, Institute for Habitat Development, is seeking a dynamic individual to join our team as a Civil Society and Communications Expert.

About Us: At Co-PLAN, we've been at the forefront of sustainable development since 1995, empowering communities, influencing policies, and fostering civil society engagement. We believe in creating tangible social transformations and promoting activism through innovative communication approaches.

Your Role: As a Civil Society and Communications Expert, you'll be the driving force behind our efforts to support, engage, and communicate with activists and civil society organizations. Your responsibilities will include designing and implementing support programs, developing media strategies for maximum impact, and spearheading projects focused on advocacy and activism.

What We're Looking For:

- An expert with a Master's degree in Social Sciences, Communications, Journalism, or related fields.
- Proven experience in civil society and activism, with a media or public relations background.
- A creative storyteller with a strong understanding of social media platforms for strategic communication.
- A collaborative team player with exceptional communication skills and a knack for crafting compelling narratives.
- A seasoned professional with at least six years of experience in communications and civil society engagement.
- A networker who can generate interest in our activities and products within civil society in Albania and in the Western Balkans.

Competitive Salaries and Remuneration: We offer competitive salaries and remuneration packages to attract top talent and reward your expertise in driving social impact through civil society and activism.

How to Apply: Excited to join our mission? Send us your application by July 20, 2024, 16:00h. Include a cover letter expressing your interest, a CV with references, academic diplomas, a portfolio of your works, and a document showcasing your English proficiency to co-plan@co-plan.org.

Join Co-PLAN: Be part of an organization that values equality, opportunity, and social impact. Your expertise in civil society and activism will be instrumental in driving meaningful change and shaping a better future for all.
